

Short Term Mission Trip Information

A trip could be anywhere from 5-8 days with 4-8 people. Anything less than 5 days would not be worth it because the group would not be able to experience all the aspects of the project and would feel rushed the entire time. We are not able to house/handle more than 8 people right now because of our housing/truck space and no less than 4 people because of the hands we need to get the work done. Just a general itinerary looks something like this:

Sat-Sat

Sat---arrive in San Pedro Sula and drive up to the mountains. We would eat supper in the mountains have a devotional and go to sleep

Sun---wake up see the work site/my house maybe ride around town to show you around, go to church at 7:00-9:00 at night. Church in the morning is usually just a small devotional and then a meeting.

Mon---work building filters

Tues---building filters and washing sand

Wed---going to install filters and washing sand if needed for the next day

Thurs-- installing filters. Small home group meeting with people from church

Friday--- leaving to go back to San Pedro by 10:30 to go to the market in the afternoon

Sat---fly out

If the trip is one or two days less then we would cut out a building day or installing day or both.

Of course if a trip is Sun-Sat or Mon-Sat there would be no church service. You could also have a trip leaving or returning any other day of the week. Also, things down here are determined by the weather (rain or not) and water (if we have it or not) and electricity. Things could change and probably will.

Prices

8 people ---$80 a person per day

7 people---$85 a person per day

6 people---$90 a person per day

5 people---$95 a person per day

4 people---$110 a person per day

Sat-Sat is a 7 day trip because the two Sat are half days

Sun-Sat is 6 days

Etc.

What this would pay for = the materials cost for the filters, rental car, gas, food, and lodging.

What this does not pay for = plane ticket, souvenirs, snacks that you might want to buy during the day, insurance, and the dinner in San Pedro Sula the last night before the group leaves the next day.

All of these numbers are based on the group renting one vehicle and staying in the hotel in San Pedro Sula one night. If these were to change, the prices would also change.

Medicine/Vaccines

- If you take prescription medicine, make sure the bottle has your name on it and you should be good to bring any medicine you need
- Many people like to get a prescription for Cipro from their doctor “just in case” and some even take a Cipro a day to prevent of any sickness that might come their way.
- We do not offer advice or suggestions of what vaccines to take except for making sure your tetanus shot is up to date. We also suggest people look at government CDC website to see what they suggest and decide for yourself which shots you might need.
<http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/destinations/traveler/none/honduras>

Contact Info for Joel in Honduras

Phone number:

Calling from the USA: 011-504-9809-3321(my phone) or 011-504-9982-7119 (my wife, Maite’s phone)

Address:

Joel Aycock
Barrio La Brisa del Rio
El Paraiso, Copan, Honduras

(we do not have house numbers)